

S. Albrecht, R. Braun, Z. Heuschkel,
F. Marí, J. Pippig (Editors)

Future of Food

State of the Art, Challenges and
Options for Action

DBU Environmental Communication / Volume 2

Stephan Albrecht, Reiner Braun,
Zoe Heuschkel, Francisco Marí, Julia Pippig (Hrsg.)

Future of Food

State of the Art, Challenges and
Options for Action

ISBN 978-3-86581-419-7

266 Seiten, 16,5 x 23,5 cm, 39,95 Euro

oekom verlag, München 2013

©oekom verlag 2013

www.oekom.de

Contents

PREFACE	9
FOREWORD, Achim Steiner	11
INTRODUCTION, Editors	13
1. WHERE DO WE STAND?	25
Hans Herren Global food security: How do we get the camel through the eye of the needle?	27
Michael Hamp International financial institutions striving for nimbler ways to food and nutrition security through sustainable agricultural development	39
Hartmut Graßl Building a global assessment cluster for sustainability politics	47
Nikolai Fuchs The trade-side of food security – The role of the WTO	59
Jochen Flasbarth Environmentally harmful subsidies and their impact on food security	71
Stephen Albrecht So many smart reports, so inconclusive decisions and actions	81
2. CHALLENGES AHEAD	93
Suman Sahai Challenges to food sovereignty in India	95
Judy W. Wakhungu African Case Studies	101

	Rudolf Buntzel
	Farmer based or science based food security: Whose knowledge counts? A comparative analysis between IAASTD and CAADP on knowledge systems and extension	107
	Michael Brüntrup
	Large-scale investments in agricultural land – historical and recent evolutions. Who is profiting, who or what is developed?	119
	David Segovia Araujo
	Building financial institutions supporting food sovereignty and sustainable development in the Union of Southern American Nations (UNASUR)	161
	Michael Krawinkel
	Realizing the human right to food: Sufficient, divers & healthy diets	173
	Molly D. Anderson
	Higher education revisited: Sustainability science and teaching for sustainable food systems	179
3.	What can we do?	189
	Ellen Messer
	What we can do: Human rights, food security and conflicts	191
	Zoe Heuschkel
	Urban agriculture – breaking the chains of self-imposed dependencies on food security	205
	Haiyan Peng, Martin Rohde, Niels Thevs
	Knowledge, policies, plot scale and productivity in date plantation in the Tarim River Basin, NW China	213
	Francisco Marí
	There is no global food security without sustainable fisheries	223
	Sisira Saddhamangala Withanach, Sören Köpke and Damien Frettsome
	Building non-hegemonic political culture for sustainable rural development	231
	Paulo Alfredo Schönardie
	Family farming in the context of energy production from biomass in Brazil: Stalemate or potential for sustainable energy and food sovereignty?	243

Contents	7
BERLIN DECLARATION	255
AUTHORS AND EDITORS	259